I'm excited to finally unveil these pieces that I've been working on since January and thinking about a lot longer!

They are hanging in September/October at the Castle Rock (CO) Adventist Hospital and are scheduled to move to the Littleton (CO) Adventist Hospital in November/December. Very fitting as I was an ICU/Home Care nurse in another life! I believe in the "Healing Powers of Art", not only for the sick but those who care for them as well. These paintings may also be viewed on my website:

If you would like to visit the show with me at either Hospital, please call and make an appointment at 303-752-2029.
I'd be very happy to talk to you about the paintings and answer your questions.

Two new pieces will join the current paintings when the show moves to Littleton!
